COOKIES & ONLINE TRACKING POLICY

What are cookies?

Cookies are tiny pieces of data saved on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. There are many different cookies, and they each have different uses. We use cookies to enhance your experience on the Bristol A.R.C. website. Cookies also track information such as how you arrived on sites, your time of arrival, the pages you viewed and how long you stayed.

The Bristol A.R.C. website uses both first party and third party cookies. First party cookies are restricted to the same domain as the website you are viewing, in this case bristolarc.org.uk, and are used to track the performance of the website and improve the website experience for the user. Third party cookies are set by a domain other than bristolarc.org.uk – this is to recognise the user (anonymously) across websites and is used to track the performance of our marketing and ensure we are reaching the right audience.

Different cookies store information for varying time periods on your computer or mobile device. You are able to view the cookies held on your computer or mobile device by looking at your cookie settings on your chosen internet browser. Find out more about managing or disabling cookies from your browser.
You can find more information about cookies at www.allaboutcookies.org

How bristolarc.org.uk uses cookies

Essential cookies

These are required for the operation of our website. Enabling you to log in to secure areas of the website, make use of a shopping cart and e-payment services. We use the following cookies:

Type of cookie	Cookie name	Purpose of cookie	1st or 3rd party	Time period
Session driver	Laravel_cookie	To help improve our service to our website users this cookie provides information on the content you look at on our website and the selections you make	1st	Single session / duration of visit

Analytical cookies

Google Analytics allows us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily. We don't collect or store your personal information (for example your name or address) so this information can't be used to identify who you are. We don't allow Google to use or share our analytics data. To reject or delete this cookie visit:

https://www.google.com/intl/en/privacypolicy.htmll
https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout

Google Analytics sets the following cookies:

Type of cookie	Cookie name	Purpose of cookie	1st or 3rd party	Time period
Google Analytics	_ga	This helps us count how many people visit bristolarc.org.uk by tracking if you've visited before	1st	2 years
Google Analytics	_gid	This helps us count how many people visit bristol.org.uk by tracking if you've visited before	1st	24 hours

Third party websites and social networks
If you click on a hyperlink from our website to any third-party websites (e.g. if you 'share' content from our website with friends or colleagues on social media), you may be sent cookies from these third-party websites. They will do so pursuant to their own policies on privacy and cookies. It's a good idea to check their privacy policies to fully understand their use of cookies.

Your cookie choices
If you do not wish to use the cookies listed in this policy then you are able to turn them off. We would encourage you to keep our first party cookies enabled as they will improve your experience on our website. However, if you wish to disable cookies you are able to manage cookie permissions via your internet browser settings:
How to manage cookies in Internet Explorer
How to manage cookies in Firefox
How to manage cookies in Chrome
How to manage cookies in Opera
How to manage cookies in Safari
Your browser may also support add-ins which give you more control over how cookies are used.
You can find out more information on disabling cookies here
https://www.aboutcookies.org/

Last reviewed: June 2018